DAVEY CLASHES WITH FERGUSON IN LIQUOR ROW

Governor Says He Welcomes Inquiry but Blocks Auditor s Plea for Funds

NEW EQUIPMENT WANTED

Called More Necessary Than $8 200 Outlay Recently Made for Executive s Auto

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Feb 18—Auditor Joseph T Ferguson entered into a verbal duel with Gov Martin L Davey today over the auditor s investigation of the state liquor department

The governor informed he was to be subpoenaed in the inquiry and he would welcome an investigation and added that Ferguson s budget request for additional appropriations for his office had been denied

We did ask for additional money to purchase new equipment the auditor replied but that did not include any $8 200 for a new automobile

New Auto Bought Recently

A new automobile purchased with national guard funds recently was assigned to Davey s use

The equipment was necessary for added efficiency said Ferguson respecting his budget request It is far more benefit to the people of Ohio to have new equipment in an office than to have the governor running around over Ohio with a coterie of bodyguards in an $8 200 auto

The auditor asserted his examiners *would not conduct the in*quiry in any manner to threaten closing of state liquor stores because that would stop profits on which old age pension payments are dependent

Ferguson also challenged the governor s proposal contained in his sponsorship of a bill transferring from the auditor to the gubernatorially appointed finance director the power to approve vouchers

The governor s director of finance now checks every bill paid by the state auditor Ferguson said If the governor was up on his law he should know that a pre-audit is now made regularly by his finance director

Liquor Director James W Miller denying that distillers paid tribute suggested a legislative inquiry or investigation by any other competent authority

Willing to Testify

He said a subpoena for him would be unnecessary as he would gladly appear before the state auditor

Miller explained that the state handled liquor on a bailment system whereby distillers placed the goods in stock and did not get paid for it until consumers had purchased it

In December 1934 liquor was purchased by the state on a cash and carry basis and it may have been to the advantage of representatives to pay sums of money to obtain orders he said Under the bailment system however I fail to see how they would benefit

He called Ferguson s investigation a smear campaign conducted by certain newspapers

I think this would be a good time for the governor to eliminate all forms of advertising in the state Miller said Newspapers are going to continue to smear him and I believe he would be backed by a sizable section of the population if he made such a move

Ferguson declared he intended later to study the administration of other state departments and let the chips fall where they may

From the governor came the comment that he welcomed any inquiry by a competent authority and that he would respond to a subpoena if Ferguson suggested a legitimate reason for calling him

Asks Whence Ideas

Saying that Ferguson could investigate to his heart s content Gov Davey added Id like to know who is furnishing him with all these ideas

Previously the auditor said he

CROP INSURANCE LAW ASKED BY ROOSEVELT

DAVEY REDUCES RELIEF DEMAND

Will Ask for Law To Make Counties Share at Least Half of Burden.

PLANS MESSAGE TUESDAY

Points to Reappraisal Opposition by Local Officials Who Claim They Lack Funds

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Feb 18 Gov Martin L Davey will ask the legislature to require Ohio s counties to share at least half of the state s huge relief costs in 1937 38

Criticising allegedly county officials who object to matching of state relief grants the governor announced he would address a joint meeting of the senate and house next Tuesday night in connection with flood damage and other problems

He estimated relief requirements for the biennium at $40 000 000 and declared the state government should provide no more than half the amount

He referred to legislative [illegible] of a matching provision in the $3 000 000 [illegible] relief bill he said

The very county officials who were here protesting against matching and pleading that they had no funds with which to match are the same people who [illegible] a postponement of real estate appraisals which would be one of the ways they could get the necessary money

A bill to delay appraisals scheduled for this year was passed by the last legislature but vetoed by the governor

With the vexatious relief problem ahead the legislature continued the dull business of studying some of the 1000 odd bills before it

Meanwhile the house judiciary committee heard supporters and foes of the controversial Rogers bill to remove employes of the at*torney general s office from civil* service jurisdiction but deferred action on the measure last night until next Tuesday

Democratic members of the house withheld formal indorsement of President Roosevelt s judicial reorganization plan at a caucus and Speaker Frank R Uhl said it would be discussed again next week Reliable reports were that the 10 majority members voted to place the issue before the house Sixteen did not vote

Bills passed by the house and sent to the senate would increase the terms of township trustees and clerks from two to four years and raise their salaries provide uniform proceedings for interstate

COMMISSIONERS BUY PORTABLE ROLLER

Galion Company Only Maker Clerk Says in Explaining Omission of Bids

*County commissioners have au*thorized the purchase of a new portable road roller at a cost of $1 850 from the Galion Iron Works Co Clifford F Willoughby clerk of the board said today The new machine will be used for rolling down patch work on county roads and will replace the present system of letting traffic pack down the isolated fillins County Engineer Carl H Tozzer said

Although state law requires commissioners to advertise for bids on purchases involving more than $500 no bids were taken on the roller Mr Willoughby said commissioners knew of no other company which manufactures a portable roller and hence felt there was no necessity for calling for bids

Mr Tozzer, however, said he believes there are several types of portable road rollers being made The county now has three heavy duty rollers weighing from six to 10 tons he said The new machine is rubber tired and is equipped with hollow drums which can be filled with water Unfilled the roller weighs about one ton and can be quickly transported from one part of the county to another

Prosecuting Attorney Paul D Michel said he is not at liberty to give an opinion on whether bids should have been received unless he is requested for an opinion by commissioners. County Auditor Harry V. Mounts knew of no objections to the payment of the bill which has not been received yet. The roller is expected to arrive shortly

Importance of Proper Diet Stressed in School

Mrs Harris Declares Delicious and Nourishing Meal Is Personal Achievement

A delicious nourishing meal is a personal achievement That was one of the many convictions carried away from The Star auditorium *yesterday afternoon by ap*proximately 900 interested women who attended the second class in the popular four-day course for homemakers which is being presented to the community by The Star

Again the eager pupils were lined up and waiting long before the fascinating forum was opened by Mrs Bertha M Harris the alert authority on household lore who is conducting the free classes appeared on the platform

Mrs Harris stressed the importance of a proper and well balanced diet as she went about *the opening duties of the demon*stration work in her attractive all white temporary kitchen on the stage of the auditorium

Her first demonstration was a peach mousse and the simple easy recipe registered instantly with the housewives Set the *refrig*eration control at lowest point until the dessert is frozen, then turn to normal, she told them. The recipe became doubly popular when Mrs Harris suggested other fruits and combinations which might be followed by varying the recipe a trifle

Glorifies the Onion

From desserts she went to the beginning of the menu and glorified the lowly onion by making it the base for French onion soup. "Onion soup is delicious when properly made, is a popular dish with men, and makes a nice luncheon dish when combined with salad," she told the women. Whether or not the onion is to be strained out of the soup when it is finished she left with the housewife.

Her suggestion of placing small cloves of garlic in roast of lamb launched the subject of roasting. "Never sear meat when roasting it," she told the women, and proved her point by explaining to [illegible] giving explicit directions for preparing she cooked the sweet breads by shallow frying which she said amounted to about an inch of fat in the frying pan

Mrs Harris offered the school something new in her lemon apple pie and her demonstration included a thorough lesson in the art of pie baking Roll from the center out never back and forth she cautioned and advanced the information that rolling back and forth caused the dough to become tough She stressed the importance of having a hot oven for the beginning of the baking with

HARDING HIGH DEBATE TEAMS WIN AT ASHLAND

Score Victories in Four Contests; Kenton Pupils Here for No-Decision Meetings.

Harding High school debaters won sweeping victories at Ashland last night, emerging winners in all of four decision contests with Ashland High school teams.

Ashland judges, professional men from Ashland college and college students, decided that the Marion debaters argued the question of government ownership and operation of electric utilities as well from the affirmative side as from the negative.

The debates were staged at Ashland High school following a banquet for the public speaking and dramatic groups of the school. Harding debaters, Coach T D Dale and John Imbody of Marion were guests at the banquet.

Imbody, who won a scholarship with a model Napoleonic coach displayed the coach and explained the fine points of its building. The program included a talk by Professor Delbert Dutshal of Ashland college on "Why You Should Study Public Speaking."

On Harding's two Affirmative teams were Margaret Hufford and John Imbody, John Grimes and Harold Stafford. Their opponents were Helen Wessinger and Lloyd Mourey, Elizabeth Schindler and Samuel Epstein Professor Dutshal and Vernon Grisso, a student *for the ministry, judged the two de*bates in which Harding argued the affirmative side of the question

Negative debaters for Harding were Josephine Frank and Tom Muffett, George Diegle and Owen Meddles On the Ashland teams were June McAdoo and Richard Olin, Harry Hamilton and Robert Macomber, Harold Andrews, Jean Lotz and Louise Culbertson, Ashland college debaters, judged one of the contests and L. SCHEME CALLED FARM BUFFER

Coupled With Plan To Store Surpluses To Keep Even Flow of Supply

SEEN STABILIZING TRADE

Proposal Also Linked to Soil Conservation and Aid to Poorer Rural Areas

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Feb 18—President Roosevelt recommended to congress today adoption of a system of crop insurance to provide the farmer with a buffer against disastrous crop failures.

He said that such insurance coupled with a system of storage reserves for crop surpluses in good years would assist in providing a more nearly even flow of farm supplies thus stabilizing farm buying power and contributing to the security of business and employment

A program of crop insurance and storage of reserves he said, should be part of the foundation of agricultural policy which we are building and which must include the conservation of soil and water, better land use increased farm income and alleviation of distress in rural areas arising out of factors beyond the control of individual producers

Sends Committee Report

The President sent to congress with his message a report of his special committee of government officials which planned the insurance program.

Under the program the insured farm would be protected against such natural hazards as drouth grasshoppers and hail

The farmer would be protected up to 75 per cent of his normal yield Thus if he lost his wheat crop which would have returned him 12 bushels to the acre he would be protected against nine bushels of the loss He would be paid either in the commodity or its cash equivalent

The President recommended that crop insurance be extended to wheat for the crop year 1938

I believe that legislation should authorize application of similar programs to other commodities he said When it is established that producers desire them and application of the plan to wheat has provided a back log of experience in applying the principles of crop insurance

Private Plan Opposed

The committee of federal officials who planned the insurance program told Mr Roosevelt it was too large an undertaking for private companies

They said the federal government could well afford to pay administrative and overhead costs in the plan to protect farmers against crop losses by drouth and other unavoidable disasters

Secretary Wallace chairman of the committee said the plan would have the effect of storing up reserves of wheat in years of large crops and releasing them on the market in years of crop failure

The insurance was not a substitute for any other federal farm measures he said but rather supplementary

Estimating that more than $600 000 000 in federal funds had been expended in the last 10 years for distressed farmers who lost crops the insurance committee said much of this would be eliminated by assisting wheat farmers to assist themselves

The committee report suggested the insurance plan be voluntary but the participating farmers be urged to join in other federal farm programs.

Federal officials estimated that $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 would be needed to set up the plan and ca-

STOCKS STAGE STEADY CLIMB

Specialties, Alcohols, Rails and Metals Move Forward; Utilities Mark Time.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—Specialties and alcohols joined rails and metals in an even-paced stock market advance today.

Fractions to a point or more higher were Evans Products, Eaton Jackson, National Distillers, Schenley, Distillers Corp.-Seagrams, Missouri Pacific preferred, Western Pacific preferred, Southern Pacific, U. S. Smelting, Kennecott, International Nickel, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Standard Oil of New Jersey and American Can.

U. S. Rubber preferred, a high-stepper in the previous session was to the fore. Allegheny preferred was bid up briskly.

Showing little energy were American Telephone, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, General Electric and duPont.

Bonds were irregular. Grains and cotton were narrow. The pound sterling and the French franc were steady.

Interest in alcohol issues was stimulated, brokers said, by intimations of Federal officials that peak output of whisky is near.

Traders found some encouragement in estimates that steel mill operations, barring unforeseen happenings, are likely to hold between 80 and 85 per cent of capacity during the next three months.

Unfilled order files of the major companies were said to have increased materially during January and thus far in February.

Rubber company issues were watched in view of figures indicating stocks of this commodity on hand in the United States in January dropped to their lowest point since December, 1930.

The French franc, at the beginning of foreign exchange transactions, was off .00⅛ of a cent at 4.65½ cents. Sterling was unchanged at $4.89⅞.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 — Late upturns lifted prices of all Chicago wheat futures today to well above yesterday's finish.

Wool Market

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Feb. 18—The price situation in the wool market here was very irregular and unsettled today. Holders of most lines of spot domestic wools were willing to make moderate concessions from the peak of selling prices of about a month ago, but most mills were not showing any interest in the wools offered to them. The few who had some immediate requirements to cover from domestic wools were able to fill their needs at prices below last week's quotations.

OHIO CONGRESSMAN BACKS COURT CHANGE

Harlan Says Reform Foes Appeal "to Childish Prejudices and Fears."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—Ohio congressmen pondered today President Roosevelt's proposal for reorganization of the judiciary after a new plea by Rep. Byron B. Harlan, Dayton Democrat, for its adoption.

Harlan, speaking over a radio network in his second speech in behalf of the President's proposals, said opponents have made "a dramatic appeal to childhood prejudices and fears."

"Whenever our judicial branch constitutes itself a third legislative chamber, chosen for life and utterly contemptuous of the overwhelming desires of the elected lawmakers," Harlan said last night, "the Constitution expressly authorizes congress to appoint a majority, if necessary, in that third legislative chamber.

"After all, this is a democracy, and just as the English parliament had to curb the house of lords, an occasional check upon our own house of lords might be salutary."

The Dayton Democrat recently defended the judiciary plan on the floor of the house after another Ohio Democrat, A. P. Lamneck of Columbus, had attacked it. Lamneck claimed his private poll of Ohio's 24 house members showed 13 definitely aligned against the proposal.

Harlan introduced in the house yesterday a bill providing state codes of fair competition to accomplish the purposes of the NRA. He said his measure was within the supreme court decision holding the original act unconstitutional.

He proposed that industries could draw up state codes, which would be filed with the federal trade commission after approval by the governors. Then he would prohibit shipment of products into any state if they violated codes in that state.

The only blanket codes authorized, he said, would be those specifically adopted by state legislatures.

USE FOR OLD TABLE CLOTHS

MARION CO. SCOUTERS TO MEET TONIGHT

Leaders To Conduct Model Troop Meeting as Part of Training.

Scouters of the Marion district of the Harding Area council will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Harding High school gymnasium for a program of scout activites and games as a training course in conducting a model troop meeting.

From the ranks of the scout leaders have been selected troop committees, scout masters, patrol leaders and other officials of a scout troop. At the meeting tonight the scouters will reverse the procedure of leading the way for the scouts, and instead will participate in the regular activities of the scout meeting.

The group was summoned together by the novel means of a subpoena, ordering them to appear before the Marion County Court of Honor. The subpoenas, facsimilee of a court summons, were served to more than 50 Marion men interested in scouting and who will participate in the program tonight.

Officers of the scout troop for the meeting are: G. A. Holland, chairman, Dr. Frank R. Mann, James E. Frew, William E. Lawler, Alfred Donithen and Wilbur H. Symes, members of the troop committee; Arthur Brooks, scoutmaster; C. H. Faust, Cecil Gabler and Roy Acker, assistant scoutmasters; Fred Allen, senior patrol leader; D. T. Mills, scribe; Fred Exton, quartermaster; Robert Kodehler bugler; Harold White, Loy Rhoads, Glen Wymer, Charles Howard, Lynn Kellogg and Wilbur Maffett

Modern Homemakers Appreciate Why Gas Was Selected At Cooking School

COOKING SCHOOL

YOU can hear it often as crowds of homemakers come from the Marion Star Cooking School—"I'm glad they used gas as the kitchen fuel." These women can appreciate fully why this modern fuel was chosen. They use gas in their own kitchens and they know its greater efficiency and economy. And food authorities agree with these modern homemakers as demonstrated by Mrs. Harris' choice of gas as her cooking fuel.

A Shaky Assumption

The excuse for packing, or rather reorganizing, the supreme court is that the court has interfered with the new deal's legislative program. That must mean the court's adverse decisions blocked President Roosevelt's plan for social reform, if it means anything.

The court ruled against NRA 9 to 0 at a time when the act was being violated so widely that congress was getting ready to change it.

The AAA was ruled unconstitutional by 6 to 3 when drouth had largely solved the overproduction problem the act was primarily intended to solve.

Wage and hour regulations of the Guffey act were declared invalid 6 to 3 for the same reasons which prevailed against NRA.

Federal regulation of hot oil shipments were ruled out 8 to 1. This problem has ceased to be acute.

The original farm moratorium act, which wasn't an integral part of the Roosevelt program, was declared unconstitutional 9 to 0.

The original railway pension act, which President Roosevelt himself said was badly drawn, failed to get the court's approval by a vote of 5 to 4.

By a vote of 9 to 0 the court ordered refunding of AAA processing taxes impounded by federal courts, a decision which hinged on the AAA decision.

The municipal bankruptcy act, never widely used, was rejected by 5 to 4.

A case against the securities commission which had ordered a dealer to testify about a proposed issue of securities withdrawn before their registration became effective was decided 6 to 3 against the government. The securities act was not affected.

Few of the administration's supporters will find in these cases evidence to support their too easy assumption that the court has blocked the new deal legislative program. On the contrary, in some of the cases it is plain that the court's decisions saved the administration acute embarrassment over legislation which either was badly drawn or unenforceable.

If the supreme court's decisions during Mr. Roosevelt's administration are the only basis for his desire to reorganize it, the excuse is far from worthy of the action it is supposed to justify.

"I Told You So."

Some members of organized labor groups are puzzled and resentful over the public's reluctance to rush to their support whenever they ask for help. They should take a look at their organizations.

The American labor movement has been split into two main parts. How is the public to know which part deserves support when members of unions and their leaders aren't sure themselves where they really belong?

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis, leader of the Committee for Industrial Organization, which is trying to supplant the A. F. of L. as No. 1 labor organization, plainly are bent on exterminating each other. How many labor union members have made up their own minds as to which man is right?

Is Mr. Green, as Mr. Lewis's United Mine Workers charge, guilty of treason and betrayal of labor, or is Mr. Lewis the man who has something to fear from these [illegible]? This is a question which organized labor must decide for itself. It cannot [illegible] the public to make the decision for it.

One of the things which has happened is growth of bitter jealousy of urban areas by rural areas. In the redistricting problem it leads to the attitude that cities shouldn't have equal representation no matter how much they're entitled to in a basis of population. For some reason or other certain rural legislators seem to believe city folks, crowded together, should be counted by halves and thirds in [illegible]

Frankfurter's Views On Court

DISCUSSION of President Roosevelt's proposal to appoint six new members to the supreme court and the possibility of enlarging its membership from 9 to 15 members has revealed a mystery concerning origin of the idea.

It was discussed with legislative leaders [illegible] party. It is [illegible] platform which promises [illegible] constitutional amendment if [illegible] program cannot be carried [illegible] constitutionally.

[illegible] the idea originated in the minds of [illegible] was to extend federal authority by [illegible] grant of power in the form of a constitutional amendment. In a previous article in this column I was shown that [illegible] Solicitor General Stanley Reed does not share his chief's view that the court is overloaded.

Was it [illegible] conceived in the Frankfurter [illegible] of many who used to [illegible] experiment. Possibly so, but certainly not in the mind of the group's mentor, Prof. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard University law school, adviser on new deal legislation, possibility for one of the supreme court appointments President Roosevelt would like to make. Prof. Frankfurter is on record as opposed to the court's enlargement.

In an article on the supreme court written for the Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences, published in 1934, Prof. Frankfurter says:

THERE is no magic in the number nine but there are limits to effective judicial action. Deliberation by the court is the very foundation of sound adjudication as is the lively sense of responsibility by every member of the court for its collective judgment. Experience is conclusive that to enlarge the size of the court would be self-defeating.

Prof. Frankfurter adds:

In those specific procedural habits must be added the traditions of the court, the public scrutiny which it enjoys and the long tenure of the justices. The [illegible] that comes from a great past is reinforced by sensitiveness to healthy criticism. Continuity and experience in adjudication are secured through length of service as distinguished from the method of selection of judges.

This does not seem to support the theory that at 70 a justice becomes incompetent and should be supplemented with a younger member.

Reviewing proposals to enlarge the court on account of increase in litigation, Prof. Frankfurter indicates preference for restriction of the number of cases reviewed by the court. He cites the [illegible] 1891 when the [illegible] circuit court of appeals [illegible] jurisdiction over certain cases hitherto assigned to the supreme court, and again in 1925 when an act further limited appeals and gave the supreme court a large discretion to grant or reject [illegible]. On this aspect of the court's work Prof. Frankfurter says:

THE SUPREME COURT has increased [illegible] common law court. The stuff of its business is, as in the continent [illegible] law and the [illegible] legal questions in [illegible] the multitudinous lawsuits of [illegible] The construction of important federal legislation and of the Constitution is now the staple business of the supreme court.

Thus the most important manifestations of our political and economic life may ultimately come for judgment before the supreme court and the influence of the court permeates even beyond its technical jurisdiction. That a tribunal exercising such power and beyond the reach of popular control should from time to time arouse popular resentment is far less surprising than the infrequency of such hostility and the endurance of the court.

No political party has been consistent in its support or its hostility to the court. Every American political party at some time has sheltered itself behind the supreme court and at other has found in the court's decisions obstructions to its purposes. This is a reflection of the fact that the court throughout its history has not been the organ of any party or registered merely party differences. Clashes of views and very serious ones there have been on the court almost from the beginning, but these were judicial differences as to party allegiances; they involve differences of fundamental outlook regarding the Constitution and the judge's role in construing it.

Whenever supreme court decisions have especially offended some deep popular sentiment, movements have become rife to curb the court's power. But no proposal for curtailment of the supreme court's power over legislation has ever been adopted. The wise exercise of this power it has shrewdly been discerned cannot be assured by any mechanical device. The only reliance rests in the quality of the judges and the temper and training of the bar, for no graver responsibilities have ever confronted a judicial tribunal, no more searching equipment was ever required of judges.

PROF. FRANKFURTER spoke highly of the public esteem for the supreme court, continuing:

Confidence in the competence of the court has not been won by the presence of a rare man of genius. The explanation lies rather in the capacity of the court to dispose adequately of the tasks committed to it. The effective conditions for insuring the quality of the output of the supreme court have in the long run been maintained. Human limitations have been respected.

While in response to the country's phenomenal increase in population and wealth and the resulting extension of governmental activities duties have been placed upon congress, the executive departments, various federal administrative agencies and the lower federal courts which disregarded their strength and capacity, the duties of the supreme court have on the whole been kept within the capacities of nine judges who are not supermen.

Elsewhere in the article Prof. Frankfurter said:

Certainly neither the presidency nor the congress has better withstood the fluctuating winds of popular opinion than the supreme court. Despite intermittent popular movements against it the court is more securely lodged in the confidence of the people than the other two branches of the government.

That the supreme court should have been given all the powers it has is of course not a matter of natural law. But if any federalism is to endure it must provide for some checkrein on the constituent units and the history of the American colonies and states make it inevitable that the checkrein should be a court and not congress.

Youth Advances

BY CHARLES GRESHAM
International News Writer

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18.—Newest advance by American youth toward what they claim is their rightful place in the modern world is scheduled in Washington when a sizeable delegation of young citizens will present to the President and congress an ambitious legislative program designated the American Youth act.

Several thousand young persons between the ages of 16 and 25 are expected to assemble in the capital Feb. 19 to 22 in answer to the summons of the American Youth Congress, which is sponsoring the movement for legislative aid to the youth of the United States.

Aubrey Williams

The program advocated would involve an expenditure of approximately $500,000,000 and would extend the work now being carried on by the National Youth administration, headed by Aubrey Williams, as well as embody some features of the CCC program. Proponents of the plan assert that the present aid being given the young people of the nation is inadequate and restricted to emergency relief. They urge that the project be made more extensive and constructive.

There are several features to the American Youth act as tentatively drawn up. It proposes a program of public work projects which would employ young people between the ages of 18 and 25, paying them a minimum wage of [illegible] cents an hour or a weekly minimum of $15 a week. This work would be in the nature of that now carried on by the CCC but more permanent in character and more remunerative to those employed.

Another section of the program would be devoted to assisting students both in high schools and universities. Employment of academic nature would be provided these young people who would be paid a minimum of $30 a month. Although similar assistance is now provided by the National Youth Administration the compensation allowed is considerably less.

A third class of youth included in the program is those in need of vocational training. Practical education in a trade would be offered them and effort made to place them in jobs as union apprentices after the training course was completed.

State Movements Progress

Sen. Lundeen of Minnesota and Cong. Maverick of Texas have been enlisted in support of the American Youth act and have been asked to introduce the bill in the two houses of congress. Other notables whose endorsement of the plan have been obtained include William Allen White, Sen. Frazier, Gov. Hoffman of New Jersey and several college presidents.

Highpoint of the pilgrimage, which the American Youth Congress has scheduled for Washington, will be an address by President Roosevelt on Feb. 20.

Ears to Ground On Court Issue

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—Opposing court factions in congress say it isn't so but they have a private agreement to hold off consideration of President Roosevelt's repacking legislation until the country is heard from. In other words both sides are agreed to let the country rather than the congress decide the fight.

It appears Mr. Roosevelt's leaders have been telling him the project cannot be jammed through without heavy casualties. The first run of incoming mail was against him. He must build up popular sentiment behind his move or a lot of congressional gore will be spilled, they say.

This is all right with the opposition. They have insufficient votes signed, sealed and delivered today. They must build up a majority by stirring up popular opinion.

Campaign Plans

The White House is miles ahead of the opposition on inside organization. Mr. Roosevelt had his whole campaign setup ready to shoot with the famed publicist Charles Michelson called back from a Florida vacation to sight the guns.

Facts and figures for speeches are being systematically furnished to government officials and sympathetic congressmen. Radio spots are being arranged for them. Propagandists are being prompted with the proper arguments. The whole presidential campaign planting machine is sowing as smoothly as it did last October.

The opposition has nothing like that. Most of its radio work so far has been developed by radio program directors. The broadcasting companies are flooded with administration speakers and must go out and snag a few oppositionists now and then to create an appearance of evening things up. Senators Borah, Johnson, Van Nuys, Bailey and a few others are getting their heads together occasionally but they have nothing like an organization.

Nevertheless they have had an advantage. With caustic tongues like that of Senator Glass ready to ad lib a devastating answer to Attorney General Cummings they do not seem to have suffered much.

German Loan Rumors

Recurring rumors about an allied credit loan to Germany have pierced the skins of state department officials. The highest authority has told friends it is unthinkable that this country should join in a loan. He attributes the rumors to financial authorities anxious to get their money back from Germany.

An influential economist of the new order says Germany could not possibly meet the exchange requirements to pay interest on a large loan so it would mean giving the money away.

Leadership Shift Talked

More than one presidential arranger is talking about shifting the leadership of the President's fight from Senator Minton of Indiana before the senate starts.

It seems that Mr. Minton had good reasons to expect an appointment to a circuit judgeship vacancy in his locality before this. In fact there has been a lot of talk that he would have been appointed except for the opposition of Democratic National Chairman Farley. When asked about it Mr. Minton proclaimed his candidacy for the job by saying "Barkis is willing."

Many a Roosevelt friend suspects it would be wiser to have his court fight led by someone who is not a candidate for judicial appointment.

It may be hard for Mr. Roosevelt to find a senate leader without the toga itch. Nearly all who are lawyers have it and the rest have law partners who have it.

Coin Face

If you will look hard at those new Joe Robinson half dollars you may see a slight touch of crimson arise on the cheek of the handsome silver visage.

The coin bearing the countenance of the renowned Democratic leader of the senate are to commemorate the Arkansas centennial. The choice of physiognomy was made by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau who must have inadvertantly overlooked the fact that the legislation authorizing the coin was not fathered by Senator Robinson but mothered by his colleague Senator Hattie Caraway, former friend of Huey Long, whose face appears at no place on it.

The power of any governing authority to reward its friends or punish its opponents is limited only by its imagination.

Not Interested

A statesman returning from Florida was surprised to learn that Mr. Roosevelt had proposed to get his social legislation by packing the supreme court.

The only unsettled questions he heard discussed in Miami were the prospective winners at Hialeah in the afternoon and at four dog tracks at night.

At The Savoy Dance Hall

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—Europeans in the metropolis to see the sights invariably ask to see the Savoy dance hall in deep Harlem. And of course. Stamping at the Savoy has become a part of the routine of every radio swing program. The Savoy is a black and white resort with a patina of respectability.

No hard liquor is served and it has never had a cutting scrape. It is an outlet for the negroid frenzy for barbaric dancing. Porters, maids, cooks, elevator boys as well as dictys—high tone folk—let themselves go in squirms, strangle holds and public necking.

There are some venturesome whites who indulge the epileptic seizures of the Lindy Hop, the favorite dance, with the dusky hostesses, but mostly the dancers are colored eye-rolling black bucks and sepia girls. The hall occupies a full block front on Lenox at 142d street.

Modern in lighting and decor, the music is hot and continuous. Its clientele attains a half million total yearly and the gross is $275,000. The owners are white and the place has had uninterrupted success since 1926. Although other night life in Harlem is in partial eclipse.

Mrs. Winfield Sheehan, the former Maria Jeritza of opera fame, has touched off an Australian schloss vogue in the neighborhood of her husband's estate in Hidden Valley near Los Angeles. Mrs. Sheehan acted as her own architect and contractor, appearing on the lot daily to superintend construction.

Two new and goofy night club clowns are keeping the cafe stay-outs up a bit longer. They are Jack White and Henry Youngman, cavorting in two of the less pretentious pudding houses. White's flurry of nuttiness is like this: Mrs. Jock Whitney, Helen Wills and a social handsome enter. White glances at them and observes: "I'll make it a foursome after the show." Youngman also cracks wise about the seat holders. Seeing Jimmy Durante and Ray Bolger at a table he observes: "There they are talking—beak to beak." Inane in type but amusing in extemporaneous blurts.

For many years the biggest of the uptown dope depots was in Columbus Circle after midnight. Here the overlords met their peddlers and distributed their supplies. But Narcotic Squad vigilance finally broke that up. I am told distribution is now in the public parks, notably Central. A distributor sauntering down a lonely path tosses a packet in some bush or gully. He waits until he hears a pre-arranged whistle and knows the packet has been retrieved.

And whistling is reminder it has become a vanquished art along New York streets. A psychologist declares it's an evanishment due to depression and one not as yet recaptured. It used to be residential streets were lively in the early morning with the shrill of whistlers and there were clarion chirrupings among arrivals to open shops, sweep the sidewalks, wash the windows and polish the signs. The push boys who raced their go-devil carts through the garment district were celebrated for whistling. So much so they inspired poetical effusions among Ghetto bards. But a trip through the district shows the whistle is stilled there too.

British Sight Danger Spot

Regard Czechoslovakia a Major War Threat

BY KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 18—Czec[illegible]slovakia is regarded by the B[illegible]ish foreign office as in dange[illegible] superseding Spain as the [illegible] war threat zone in Europe.

The British are seriously [illegible]cerned over the renewed [illegible] of the anti-Czechoslovakian [illegible]paign in the German press.

Genuine apprehension pre[illegible] that Czechoslovakia may be [illegible] next move on the diplomatic [illegible] board of Reichfuhrer Hitler's [illegible]eign policy.

The Czechoslovakian situation [illegible] regarded so seriously here th[illegible] opportunity is being lost eve[illegible] official statements in the house [illegible] commons to warn Germany ag[illegible] precipitating any incidents [illegible] land of Bohemia.

The British still fear that [illegible] is determined one day to strike [illegible] Czechoslovakia and rescue the [illegible]man minority there. Conseque[illegible] the British foreign office "ge[illegible] wind up" to use a favorite Br[illegible] expression every time the Ger[illegible] press commence to attack [illegible] Czechs.

Civil War Threat

With the successful use of [illegible]unteers in Spain as a method [illegible] aggression the British fea[illegible] Hitler may attempt to tra[illegible] Czechoslovakia into another [illegible] war split nation by creat[illegible] na[illegible]tional rising in Bohemia of [illegible] German Nazi minority and [illegible] assisting the movement by [illegible]patch of German volunteers.

Once German troops were [illegible]stalled in Czechoslovakia unde[illegible] guise of volunteers Britain [illegible] they could only be evicted wi[illegible] assistance of foreign arms. T[illegible] Czechoslovakia would be in dang[illegible] of becoming another field of ba[illegible] between foreign exponent of F[illegible]cism and Communism.

Rumor has even reached [illegible] that Premier Mussolini alread[illegible] given Hitler virtually a free [illegible] to move in Czechoslovakia w[illegible] the movement is opportune a[illegible] of the new Italo-German com[illegible] front agreement against Bol[illegible]vism.

Hitler has never forgiven Czecho[illegible]slovakia for entering into a mu[illegible] defense pact with Soviet Rus[illegible] Ever since that agreemen[illegible] concluded the German pre[illegible] hammered away at Czechoslo[illegible] being a Bolshevist outpost in C[illegible]tral Europe.

German Press Attacks

The German press charg[illegible] Czechoslovakia is undergoing [illegible] process of progressive Bol[illegible]tion in all departments of civ[illegible] military administration th[illegible] policies are completely subj[illegible] the domination of Moscow an[illegible] she constitutes nothing mor[illegible] a jumping off ground for So[illegible] aggression in the heart of Cen[illegible] Europe.

The British regar[illegible] these Ger[illegible] claims as highly exaggerated. Th[illegible] British foreign office takes th[illegible] view that Czechoslovakia is [illegible] unique example in Danubian E[illegible]rope of a democracy run on [illegible] strictly in accordance with Dem[illegible]cratic principles. It is regarded [illegible] a typical Democratic state [illegible] peasant proprietors and small sh[illegible] keepers for whom Bolshevism [illegible]fers not the slightest attraction.

In their effort to calm Hitle[illegible] British furthermore discount th[illegible] German claims that Czechoslovak[illegible] literally bristles with airdrom[illegible] ready at a moment's notice [illegible] launch vast hordes of Rus[illegible] bombers against Germany.

Nevertheless the British do fea[illegible] that the Soviet influence in Czec[illegible]slovakia is sufficient to crea[illegible] danger of that country becom[illegible] another Spain if Germ[illegible] attempt to establish a Nazi regi[illegible] there by force.

U S Survey Shows Only Seven Out of 3,098 Counties Having No Listed Idle

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Feb 18—The nation's unemployed represent 6,500 of a possible [illegible] occupations.

This was shown in a survey made by the U S employment service which also disclosed that of the 3,098 counties in the nation only seven had no persons registered for jobs with the federal service or affiliated state agencies when they were checked on two different dates.

Only about 150 counties have less than 100 registered job seekers.

To find any section's approximate share of unemployment the figures indicate it is necessary only to determine the area's percentage of the total population or normal employment.

For instance the east south central states of Kentucky Tennessee Alabama and Mississippi have [illegible] per cent of the nation's population. Early in 1930 they had [illegible] per cent of the gainfully employed persons and now have [illegible] per cent of the registered job-seekers.

CHAPPED HANDS ARE CUT HANDS

Use a Medicated Cream—not a cosmetic—to promote quicker healing

If your hands are Chapped, rough and sore, ask your doctor what he does for his own chapped hands! Hundreds of doctors will tell you they use a medicated cream—Noxzema. That's because doctors know that badly chapped hands are cut hands—scores of tiny cuts which need medication rather than a perfumed cosmetic.

By The Associated Press

The conferees were represented as being far apart as they worked toward a solution of the questions left unsettled in the strike settlement [illegible] a week ago today.

Grievances Big Issue

Methods of settling alleged union grievances are among the six union demands being discussed by the negotiators. Others include speed of production, seniority rights, hours of work and wage scales.

General Motors operations in Flint returned to normal for the first time in seven weeks as the remainder of its employes were called back to work. The last to report were 6,500 workers in the Buick and Fisher Body divisions.

Shipyard machinists in the San Francisco bay area remained on strike after settlement of a dispute involving 3,000 metal workers. The machinists demanding wage increases and shorter hours announced they would continue picketing.

Troops Patrol Jail

National guardsmen patrolled the county jail at militia ruled Anderson, Ind., where 17 union automotive workers were confined since their arrest Saturday after a shooting affray with non-unionists.

WALLACE DENIES TENANT HELP WOULD HARM RICH

Speaks Before House Committee Prior to Arrival of Roosevelt Message on Crop Insurance

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 18—Secretary Wallace fought to a congressional committee today his [illegible] that the far reaching administration plan to aid 2,000,000 tenant farmers would not injure large landowners.

I don't subscribe to the doctrine that if you help the people at the bottom you hurt the people at the top, Wallace told reporters. In the long run you help everybody.

He was called before the house agriculture committee shortly before congress expected to receive from President Roosevelt a message recommending a crop insurance program.

A third segment of the farm program, Wallace [illegible] will go to congress as in the [illegible] week. It will be a presidential message [illegible] a [illegible] of the secretary's proposal [illegible] of one half [illegible] per cent a year.

The house committee's hearings probably will result in a recommendation of [illegible] federal fund with which tenants can purchase farms on an extended payment plan.

Wallace pointed out that the farm tenancy committee in favoring the family size farm had not suggested confiscation of large land holdings.

He said a government tenancy program might give some large land owners a chance to sell off some of their holdings but he added that some who hoped to profit by the program may be disappointed.

Spokesmen for six large farm organizations voiced general approval of the farm tenancy recommendations.

It is fine to help unfortunate farmers in the lower grades, said Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation.

Master Louis J. Taber said the National Grange favors government efforts to aid family size owner operated farms. Too much past legislation had benefitted corporation farming, chain farming and other large scale units, he said.

A. F. L. BACKS COURT REFORM PROPOSAL

proposal is that it is too conservative. It is intended to make livable the capitalistic system.

Green and Wallace expressed their view while congressmen were discussing the latest compromise proposals. Senators Wheeler, Democrat of Montana and Bone, Democrat of Washington suggested a constitutional amendment giving congress the right to re-enact by a two-thirds vote any law declared invalid.

It met with opposition however from Senators Burke, Democrat of Nebraska, King, Democrat of Utah and Van Nuys, Democrat of Indiana, foes of Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation to increase the supreme court to 15 unless justices over 70 retire. Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, majority leader, also said the Bone-Wheeler proposal had little support.

Administration backers paid little heed to this and other mild way proposals, saying nothing had been suggested that had not been considered and rejected by the President before his message.

Sen. Burke proposed that justices be compelled to retire at 70 if they did not voluntarily withdraw at 70. A constitutional amendment would carry out his idea.

Wants Two Judges Added

Rep. Celler, Democrat of New York suggested only two members be added to the high tribunal. As ranking majority member of the house judiciary committee he has proposed adding a maximum of six.

Opponents of the President took a breathing spell in their series on speeches against his proposals. The house Republican steering committee met last night with National Chairman John Hamilton but attendants said the court was not discussed.

Sen. Byrnes, Democrat of South Carolina and Rep. Harlan, Democrat of Ohio in radio addresses advocated increasing the number of justices.

Detective Capt. Joseph Keegan said she related how gangsters took over a bus on which she was riding from the Dalles to Portland and began shooting at traffic officers. She was taken from the bus after the driver said she tried to leap out.

The woman in jail scoffed at the legendary curse attached to the diamond when questioned here by interviewer.

MARY ASTOR WEDS AFTER ELOPEMENT

bid him farewell on his flight south because of the sad tragedy of his father's death.

She left shortly after the airliner's departure for Yuma where her chartered plane was waiting.

Miss Astor, born Lucille Langhanke at Quincy, Ill., May 3, 1906, wore dark glasses and maintained determined silence on her brief marital dash through this southwest Gretna Green.

The slender film star last year waged a bitter court battle with her divorced husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, over custody of their five-year old daughter Marylyn. During the trial attorneys for Dr. Thorpe said they were prepared to introduce a sensationally frank diary of Miss Astor. They said it confided of her association with prominent men including George Kaufman, the playwright.

The diary's contents were not introduced in evidence when the case ended in compromise and the court impounded it. Kaufman, asked for comment, said in the east that I don't keep a diary.

Her first husband, a movie director, was killed in an airplane accident.

The maid at Miss Astor's Toluca Lake home where Marylyn was sleeping insisted Miss Astor had gone to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Langhanke.

NORMAN THOMAS FAVORS C. I. O. PLAN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb 18—Norman Thomas, Socialist party candidate for President last November and former Marion man, expressed regret last night over the split in organized labor but spoke in favor of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

He said he would like to see Lewis' group reunited with the American Federation of Labor headed by William Green.

I am not for Lewis or Green, he told an Ohio State university audience. I am for industrial organization merely because I do not believe that the modern heavy industries can be organized on craft lines.

BROTHERS GET ORDER TO "STAY AT HOME"

Face Juvenile Judge After Arrest for False Fire Alarm

An order to keep off the streets and stay at home after school was issued to two Marion brothers today by Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast after they admitted sending a false fire alarm Tuesday night. The boys, 15 and 13, were caught by police and firemen near an alarm box on North Main street from where the alarm had come in about 9 p. m.

They were taken before Judge Gast last night by Police Chief William L. Marks and after questioning were taken to the detention home where they spent the night. Judge Gast today explained the seriousness of their offense and pointed out to them the possibility of causing an auto accident.

The alarm was turned in from box No. 71 on North Main street at the first alley north of the Erie railroad tracks. The boys live on North Prospect street.

Judge Gast fixed no definite period of months during which the boys are to stay at home.

INQUIRY LAUNCHED INTO BRIDGE TRAGEDY

State Official Says Scaffold Had Twice Been Declared Unsafe for Workmen

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 18—The question whether scaffolding on the world's longest suspension span, the Golden Gate bridge, had been declared unsafe stood high today among those for which investigators sought an answer in explaining the 200 foot death plunge of 10 workers.

Frank McDonald, state industrial accident commissioner, said Inspector A. F. Mailloux twice made such a protest to several construction officials. McDonald pointed out that the commission and bridge authorities were approaching the $35,000,000 structure for another inspection of the 4,200 foot span when the scaffolding collapsed yesterday.

Philip Hart, president of the Pacific Bridge Co., which expects to complete the span by May, said last night that the scaffold conformed to all safety requirements and at all times we have been most careful in our operations to safeguard our workmen by all possible means.

The workmen were stripping away forms into which concrete was poured for the bridge's roadway. A 10-foot movable scaffold was carried along as the work progressed, suspended on wheels under the giant span. One wheel slipped from a girder on which it ran. That tilted the scaffolding into its fatal plunge.

Immediately below was spread an $82,000 woven rope net to prevent workmen from falling into treacherous tidal waters. The scaffolding tore out a whole section of it and plunged into the water. Several victims were tangled in the net.

Nearby boats rescued Oscar Osberg and E. C. Lambert who fought clear of the entangling net while holding on to the body of Gustave Dummitzen.

Thomas Casey clung to a beam of the bridge understructure until hauled to safety.

COAL PRICE INCREASE SEEN IF UNION WINS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb 18—Soft coal producers estimated today the increased wages and shorter hours demanded by the United Mine Workers would increase the country's coal bill by at least $270,000,000 a year.

Philip Murray, vice president of the miners, immediately challenged this figure. He told reporters the 30 hour work week and 15 per cent pay increase the miners ask for their new agreement with the operators would not by any means cost 60 cents a ton.

The operators on the other hand maintained their estimate was conservative. Their spokesman, Charles P. O'Neill, said they had not included the miners' demand for a guaranteed annual income of $1,200 in their calculations.

No one can tell what that would cost, O'Neill said.

Yesterday O'Neill called the miners' demands amazing and utterly impossible.

ROOSEVELT WANTS TO INSURE CROPS

tablish adequate reserves and pay the costs of it.

Text of Message

The text of President Roosevelt's message to congress transmitting a report of his special committee on crop insurance follows:

During the past four years the government has assisted farmers in meeting emergencies of two different types. The first was the collapse of prices resulting from huge surpluses for which foreign markets had disappeared. The second was widespread failure of crops resulting from drouth.

Government action helped both farmers and consumers. Meanwhile it has been shown that neither producers nor consumers are benefited by wide fluctuations in either prices or supplies of farm products.

Convinced that the time has come to take permanent steps to protect farmers and consumers against disasters of both types I appointed on Sept. 19, 1936 a committee of representatives of federal agencies and requested this committee to prepare a report and recommendations for legislation providing a plan of all risk crop insurance.

Report Labelled Practical

The committee has now completed its work and I transmit to you its report entitled report and recommendations of the President's committee on crop insurance. I have examined this report and I am convinced that the plan it outlines is practical, socially justifiable and worthy of your thoughtful consideration.

I believe that it provides an adequate basis for legislation which will make possible a program of crop insurance applying to wheat to the crop year 1938.

I believe that legislation should authorize application of similar programs to other commodities when it is found that producers desire it and application of the plan to wheat has provided a background of experience in applying the principle of crop insurance.

Crop insurance and a system of storage reserves should operate so that surpluses in years of good weather might be carried over for use in years of unfavorable growing conditions.

Crop insurance and a system of storage reserves would help to protect the income of individual farmers against the hazards of crop failure. It would help protect consumers against shortages of food supplies and against extremes of prices and finally it would assist in providing a more nearly even flow of farm supplies, thus stabilizing farm buying power and contributing to the security of business and employment.

To Avoid Extremes

The government also has a special interest in measures which would assist in guarding farmers and consumers against emergencies arising out of extremes of surpluses or shortages.

The expense in the past to federal, state and local governments arising by reason of crop losses points to the desirability of employing the principle of insurance in order to lessen the cost—financial and human—of future crop disasters.

A program of crop insurance and storage of reserves should be part of the foundation of agricultural policy which we are building and which must include the conservation of soil and water, better land use, increased farm income and alleviation of distress in rural areas arising out of factors beyond the control of individual producers.

May I repeat what I have suggested in a former message. That because economic and social reforms of this character are essentially national in scope and in administration the citizens of our nation believe that our form of government was never intended to prohibit their accomplishment.

Horrors of Aerial Warfare Revealed

By The Associated Press

VALENCIA, Feb 18—Insurgent airplanes and warships were reported today by Dr. Norman Bethune of Montreal to have bombed and shelled 150,000 fleeing men, women and children during the terrible evacuation of captured Malaga.

The refugees, Dr. Bethune, head of the Spanish American Blood Transfusion Institute, said, staggered and stumbled with cuts and bruised feet along the white flint road while the Fascists bombed them from the air and from the sea.

Dr. Bethune said he saw the flight from the southern seaport captured by the insurgents Feb. 8 during a trip from Barcelona with a truck load of refrigerated blood for transfusions.

BAD WEATHER HOLDS AMELIA IN CLEVELAND

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb 18—Unfavorable weather conditions delayed today Amelia Earhart's resumption of a leisurely flight from Newark, N. J., to the Pacific coast in her flying laboratory plane.

Attaches at the Cleveland airport said fog, snow and sleet west of here might delay the takeoff a whole day.

The aviatrix said she planned to start her recently announced globe circling flight about the middle of March in the giant dual motored plane.

George Palmer Putnam, her husband, said two hours and 30 minutes were needed to make the test flight from Newark late yesterday.

We loafed along as Miss Earhart tested newly installed instruments, he said. Everything functioned satisfactorily.

TEAR GAS PURCHASES BY G. M. C. REVEALED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 18—Heavy purchases of tear gas by a General Motors subsidiary shortly before the recent sitdown strike drew the attention today of the senate civil liberties committee.

Alfred Marshall, personnel chief for the Chevrolet Motor Co., testified he had ordered $4,000 or $5,000 worth of gas and equipment from Federal Laboratories, Inc., during the last months of 1936.

He said these munitions were delivered to William Smith, plant protection officer in Detroit, and some later were shipped to a factory at Saginaw, Mich.

Another gas shipment valued at upwards of $1,000 was delivered in 1933 to the Flint, Mich., chief of police, Marshall continued, although Chevrolet paid the bill.

MOTHER BACKS GIRL'S MARRIAGE TO NEGRO

"Love Is All That Matters," Says Parent of 'Teen Age Bride in Seattle

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, Feb 18—Marriage of a teen age white girl to a 38 year old Negro was defended here today by the bride's 50-year old mother who declared Love is all that matters.

Held in jail with the three other principals in the inter racial romance and weeping over difficulties arising since the wedding Sunday, Mrs. Charles F. Palmer said she and her husband intended to stand by their daughter Della and their dusky son in law, John Lee Menefield.

Police jailed the bridal couple and the bride's parents yesterday while investigating conflicting reports of Della's age. No charges have been filed.

Both Palmer, 59, and his wife insisted their daughter is 18 as shown on her marriage license. Seattle school records however listed her in January as 14.

They love each other. Love is what really counts. It's all that matters. Why do people care? Why do they make all this fuss?

Mrs. Irene S. Durham, superintendent of the women's division of the Seattle police department, said Della professed her love for Menefield.

Under Washington state laws interracial marriages are permitted and the consummated marriage of a girl of 14 is legal providing the parents consent.

A perjury charge can be brought in cases involving falsification of information required in obtaining a marriage license. A like charge can be filed for falsification in an affidavit.

Police contended a girl of 14 could not legally marry even with her parents' consent and that proof of perjury would permit annulment.

BOARD ORDERS ALL COUNTY CARS MARKED

Sheriff Objects as Commissioners Revive Law Requiring Labelling of Vehicles

All county automobiles and road equipment must be conspicuously labeled as such, commissioners decided yesterday after discovering an old state law which requires the labeling. Their action drew a protest today from Sheriff Fred F. Miller and his deputies who complained that such open advertising of the whereabouts of police will hamper their investigations of crimes.

Sheriff Miller said however he will abide by the ruling and do his best to apprehend criminals in spite of the lettering to be placed on the doors of his three cruisers. He explained that in addition to performing routine work such as checking of accidents and serving of court papers the sheriff and his deputies frequently must serve in the capacity of detective.

Detecting in an automobile labelled Official County Car would probably be pointless, he commented.

Other county officials raised no objections to the ruling. County cars are operated by employes of the health office, the engineer's office and the county commissioners.

The lettering is to be done by the Berg Bland Co. of Marion. The county owns 16 cars and trucks and several road graders and tractors.

extradition of criminals and authorize the governor to cooperate with other states in supervising paroled convicts.

The senate passed 34-0 the Lawrence bill to prevent discrimination against Negro customers in retail stores and sent it to the house. An emergency clause was added to make the measure effective immediately upon signature by the governor.

Bill Would Aid Libraries

By unanimous vote the senate also sent to the house the Thomas bill under which law libraries would receive at least 25 per cent of fines, penalties and forfeited bonds in municipal court cases. The Zoul bill to assess non resident hunters a license fee equal to that in their own states also was sent to the house.

The senate judiciary committee approved the Lipscher bills to restrict the jurisdiction of justices of the peace to their own townships and to provide severe penalties for persons aiding in jail escapes. Passage of the McCluskey bill to reduce from 15 years to eight the period in which action may be brought to recover on promissory notes also was recommended by the committee.

Similar action was taken by the house conservation committee on the Sweeney bill to permit shooting of quail and the Guthrie bill to permit shooting of game at field trials if necessary to retrieve dogs.

The committee rejected the Nixon bill under which possession of ferrets would require a permit from the conservation division. Huron and Lorain county ferret breeders opposed the measure on the ground it would ruin their industry.

Fat Girls Get The Go-By—Slim Girls Win Men

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back Breaking Bending and Rolling Exercises

Here s a way to get rid of ugly fat that works hand in hand with Nature Millions of people are losing millions of pounds of flabby flesh and getting back slender figures without the need of starvation diets or back breaking exercises

Medical science has discovered that one of the causes of too much fat lies in a little gland It is the duty of this tiny gland to make about one drop and a half every day of a vital fluid This helps the body burn up food and excess fatty tissues just as a good draft of air helps the furnace to burn up coal without forming clinkers If this little gland doesn t make this drop and a half of fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat

Doctors correct this condition by feeding this little gland the substance it lacks—and Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on this same method Millions are using them with success. They are prepared by a world-famous medical laboratory Their formula is published in every package so you know what you are taking

So don t waste time and money with starvation diets or back breaking exercises. Go to your druggist today and get a box of Marmola. Try this simple, easy way to get rid of excess fat

NOTED PIANIST ON CONCERT PROGRAM

Miss Paulina Ruvinska, Daughter of Director, Will Play With Orchestra.

When the Marion Civic orchestra presents the second of its series of 1936-37 concerts Tuesday night, March 2, under the direction of Abram Ruvinsky of Columbus, the conductor's daughter Miss Paulina Ruvinska, pianist, of New York City, will appear as the guest artist.

Miss Ruvinska is heralded by metropolitan critics as a new luminary on the concert horizon. She was born in New York City and is descended from a long line of Russian musicians. She received all her musical training from Clarence Adler, the distinguished pianist and teacher, to whom she came at an early age.

Her New York debut at Town Hall was attended by the first critics of the metropolitan press, who remained throughout the program, a tribute to her engrossing art and ability, and to her attractive personality.

Rehearsals have been in progress for several weeks on the concert which promises to excel anything the orchestra has presented since its organization three years ago. The concert March 2 will be presented in the First Presbyterian church where the preceding programs have been given.

WIPE THOSE BOTTLES

Never pour milk or cream from a freshly-delivered bottle without thoroughly wiping the top of the bottle. Sterilized milk is no help to you if you pour it over the edge of a much-handled bottle.

KNOCK OUT COLDS IN FIRST ROUND

Give Colds No Chance to Wear You Down and Put You on Your Back!

Don't dally with a cold! It may end seriously—in the form of flu or pneumonia.

When a cold strikes, strike back with redoubled force. Depend on no mere makeshift remedies.

A cold calls for a cold treatment, not a preparation good for all kinds of ailments.

A cold also calls for internal treatment, for a cold is an internal infection.

Make Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine your treatment and you have hit a cold a body blow.

Bromo Quinine is effective because it is a cold tablet made expressly for the treatment of colds and nothing else. It routs colds quickly because it is internal treatment, fourfold in effect.

First, it opens the bowels, an advisable step in treating a cold.

Second, it checks the infection in the system, a vital measure.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. The sugar-coated are exactly the same as the regular, except that the tablets are coated with sugar for palatability.

Play safe when you've caught a cold. Go right to your druggist for a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Start taking the tablets immediately, two at a time. In 24 hours your cold will usually be broken up.

Bromo Quinine tablets contain nothing harmful and are safe to take. You can get them at any drug store.

Be sure you get what you ask for—Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine! The few pennies' cost may save you a lot of worry and money.

Second Week—"A Thoughtful Religion"

OUR MENTAL HABITS

Thursday, Feb. 18—"Think on these things." Read Philippians 4:4-8. "The peace of God, which passeth all understanding." The words haunt, and even taunt, our imagination like some old, lost secret.

It cannot be an accident that Saint Paul goes on from his mention of the peace of God to tell us what we are habitually to think about!—things that are true-honest-just-pure-lovely-and of good report. The mind of a Christian, when free to follow its own bent, returns like the released pendulum to such subjects.

At the moment much of the best brain work of the modern world is being devoted to quite different subjects. Men's minds are hard at work on chemical warfare, gas masks, bombing planes. Surely nature, to say nothing of religion, has not travailed over untold centuries to bring thoughts to birth for such ends. Such thinking is little short of a prostitution of the mind of man.

We need in the mental life of our day, not so much the matching of destructive wits with defensive skill, but rather what the old Scotch preacher Chalmers called, "the expulsive power of a new affection."

Prayer: May the thoughts of our minds and the affections of our hearts be more acceptable unto thee, O God. Help us to think more constantly upon those things which belong unto our peace: through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

...The Gun"

Karsanakoff

It was my brother's name that Clenkowitz took when he turned traitor and fled fro[m] [illegible]. He had secreted the Vronski jewels among others for his own. Can you imagine then how startled I was on the ship when you asked me if I knew Count Anton Vronski? I did not know what to think. I was certain my brother had died that night a[t] [illegible]. But I began to hope again—to hope that by some miracle he had recovered and been spared. So I waited to see the man who called himself Anton Vronski—and you brought me my brother's murderer.

Karsanakoff sat up in the bed and beat at her pillow. Then she hunched up her knees and clasped her long slender hands about them. Her crimson nails gleamed out from the white fur of the robe. She had grown pale and her dark eyes were smoldering.

I had warned myself over and over that the man calling himself Vronski must be an impostor. Marushka too said nothing else was possible. But neither she nor I had guessed that it would be that man. As he stood smiling at me my heart seemed to stop beating altogether and I could feel the blood thundering in my ears. Then my heart began to beat again wildly—wildly—and I could hardly catch my breath. But somehow I managed to smile. He did not recognize me. How could he? It was a child that night that he came leading the mob into my father's hall. But his face I could never forget! It was burned into my memory. For years I waked screaming—because I had dreamed it all again—and Marushka had come to comfort me. For years I had walked in the Paris streets—gazing fearfully into the faces that passed me—terrified of seeing his.

I had lived in terror of him all the time that I was growing up. But when at last he stood before me—and stooped to kiss my hand without suspecting who I was—that old horror left me. And I was overwhelmed with such a feeling of joy that I could hardly bear it. Here he was thinking himself safe and the past too far behind him to trouble him any more, unwarned and unarmed. If I wished I could strike him down and avenge the slaughter of my father and my brother and he would be as helpless before me as they were before him.

The Moment Had Come

She reached for another cigaret. Bigelow leaned forward to light it for her.

Thank you, she said glancing at him. It is to keep me calm. I must not forget that tonight I must dance. But I want to tell you everything now. Well—we went to dine. He thought me charming, fascinating. I laughed at him and mocked him. He thought it was only my way of leading him on. I did not mind. I wished him to believe that I should be an easy conquest. I meant no doubt of me to cross his mind. I danced with him. I encouraged him to drink. It was all too easy. But still I had no plan. That sooner or later I should kill him I knew. Nothing else was possible. But I did not know when. Then he suggested the party at the studio and we went on there and you and Anne left us alone together.

Her glittering eyes were fixed on Bigelow's face now. He caught his breath sharply.

He was at the telephone—ordering food. I went into the bedroom to smooth my hair. At the restaurant several hair pins had fallen out and my hair is very heavy. She tossed her head, throwing the dark silken waves back against the pillows.

I opened the drawers of the dressing table to look for hair pins but there were none there. Then through the mirror I caught sight of the little drawer in the night stand. I went across and opened it. And there was the gun. I looked at it for a long moment. I could still hear him on the telephone. I picked up the gun and found that it was loaded. I knew then that the moment had come. It was as though the whole thing had been planned out for me. I did not stop to think about it at all. I picked up the gun and hid it in the fold of my skirt and went into the studio again.

As he turned from the telephone I was waiting there watching him. He saw something in my eyes that disturbed him. What is wrong? he asked me. I said You don't remember me, do you? He said No. Have we met before? I said Yes, once, years ago. But I have not forgotten. And then I told him. I accused him of the murder of my father and brother. He said they were oppressors—standing in the way of progress. And that he had attacked no individuals but a class. I accused him of destroying my home and sacking it. He said we had enjoyed the spoils long enough—that it had been time for a redistribution of wealth. Besides he said that had happened so long ago that I must forget it, that he would teach me to forget it.

And let you go on bearing my brother's name? I asked. He said he had proofs of his identity. That if I was so foolish as to denounce him nobody would believe me. So I am to forget it all. I asked: the death of my father and brother—the ruin of my home—my years of struggle in Paris—the early years when just so that I and Marushka could live I had to go down into the gutter and make myself a plaything for pigs—and then—he laughed—and said that there were women who preferred death to dishonor. I shot him then. And threw the gun down beside him as he fell. But he was writhing—suffering. I did not want to see that. I turned from him and switched off the lights.

A Chance To Escape

She sank back among her pillows and closed her eyes.

And then the others came back, prompted Austerlitz after an instant.

Yes. I thought they would know at once that I had killed him. And that I would have to explain. But I did not care. It was something I had to do and I had done it. That was how I felt. And then I saw from their faces that they didn't suspect me, they suspected each other. And someone said, We can't send for the police. — And then my brain began to work again. I suggested hiding the body. I saw a chance to escape—not the trial so much. I could have faced that. But I did not wish to tell why I had killed him. I did not wish to reveal my identity. There are friends of my father still living. And I was ashamed. My father was proud of his line—proud of his name.

Both men nodded in swift understanding.

He said, Karsanakoff went on slowly, that there are women who prefer death. Their own deaths, yes. After all one must face it sooner or later. And when life is endless misery why should one wish to cling to it? But there were eight of us together in that apartment. And the others had taken us in—Marushka and me—adding to their own difficulties. I could not think of myself alone. I gave what I had to give. And my loss had to be borne only by me. I was a child when I reasoned all this out. But if I had the decision to make again I should still make it as I did then. I am telling you this but I could not go on the witness stand and tell it. And if I faced my trial with sealed lips I might be sent to jail for long years—and I felt I had suffered enough for that man. Or I might be condemned to death—and I was determined not to die for him.

She reached for another cigaret. Bigelow lighted it.

Well—when the party was over and I reached my hotel I changed swiftly from my evening wrap to my mink coat and a small hat with a veil and I went to his apartment. I was the woman the taxi driver described. I had taken all his keys while we were getting him into the cupboard. I let myself in and hastily searched the place. I took all his papers of identification and all other papers that seemed of importance. I took the Vronski jewels that he had stolen from my father's collection so many years before. Then I left the door open for you so that you would have no trouble to get in and I went home to bed and I slept soundly.

Anne and Bigelow discuss "those letters" tomorrow.

ODDS AND ENDS

If he didn't come to the proposing point under the provocative glamour of Christmas and doesn't seem to be melting under the mellowing Florida moon, the only thing you can do, dear heart, is to wait until spring gets into his vein—and he is caught by the marrying fever.

When a man begins to have the faraway look in his eyes when he's kissing you, what he probably sees is a brand new lovelight a few blocks away.

Most fashionable wedding rings are made too slender, worn too loosely and changed too often ever to wear them as grandmother's did.

Nothing keeps a husband so good as the knowledge that he is at liberty to be as bad as he likes—and nobody cares.

There are times when a man thinks that love is merely a woman's passionate desire to make a man wish that he'd never been born.

A lover no longer goes to the girl's father and tremblingly pleads his case. He just drops in casually for dinner and announces to the family that he is going to take their Big Anxiety off their hands—and waits for the applause.

FRENCH ONION SOUP

2 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup thin sliced white onions, 1 tablespoon flour, 4 cups beef broth, ½ teaspoon sugar, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup cream, toast rounds.

Melt the shortening in a covered sauce-pan and brown onions to a light straw color, keeping the pan covered while cooking the onions. Stir in the flour and cook two minutes. Add beef broth, sugar, salt and pepper. Cover the pan and cook slowly until onions are quite soft. Add ½ cup cream, heat and pour into soup plates containing a round of toast sprinkled with a little Parmesan cheese.

Sweetbreads en Brochette

The heart sweetbread is the more desirable of the two kinds of sweetbreads sold on the market. As sweetbreads spoil very quickly they should be plunged into cold water as soon as they are received from the market and allowed to stand for about one hour in cold water. Drain and boil for twenty minutes in salted acidulated water. Drain and plunge into cold water. This will keep them white and firm. Sweetbreads should always be prepared in this manner before using in various dishes. The sweetbread is the thymus gland of lamb or veal but only the veal sweetbreads are used in cookery. Split the parboiled sweetbread, cut in to pieces shaped like a cutlet, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dip in egg and crumb and pan fry in hot shallow shortening. Arrange in a circle around asparagus. Garnish with mushroom caps.

Fillets of Lamb Saute

1 pound lamb ground, 1 mint leaf finely chopped, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon white pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 egg unbeaten.

Mix all the ingredients together thoroughly and form into small patties. Dredge lightly with flour and saute in hot shortening about four minutes on each side, reducing heat after patties are browned. Serve with mint sauce, French fried potatoes and Julienne carrots.

Mint Sauce

¼ cup chopped mint or 1 tablespoon dried mint, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ cup cider vinegar, ¼ cup water.

Wash the mint leaves and chop finely. Dissolve the sugar in the vinegar and water, heating it to the boiling point. Add mint and let stand one hour before serving.

Banana Scallops

Melted shortening, 1 egg, 1½ teaspoons salt, 6 bananas, ¾ cup fine corn flake crumbs, bread crumbs or cracker crumbs or corn meal.

For shallow frying have 1 inch of melted shortening in frying pan. For deep frying have deep kettle ½ to 2/3 full of melted shortening.

Heat shortening to 375 degrees F (or until a 1 inch cube of bread will brown in 40 seconds). Beat egg and add salt. Slice peeled bananas crosswise into 1 inch thick pieces. Dip into egg and roll in crumbs or corn meal. Shallow fry or deep fry in the hot shortening 1½ to 2 minutes or until brown and tender. Drain on unglazed paper. Serve very hot. Six servings.

Avocado and Tomato Salad

Avocado, Tomato, Lettuce.

Scoop out balls of avocado pulp with a small ball cutter. Cut slices of peel[ed] large tomato about ½ inch thick. Remove the center of the tomato slice. Place tomato ring on a bed of lettuce and pile avocado pear balls on top. Paprika. French dressing with a little lemon juice and tomato catsup makes a delicious dressing for this salad.

Avocados or alligator pears are very rich and require acid fruits and dressings to bring out their full flavor and deliciousness. Pineapple, oranges and grapefruit in various forms are ideal to serve with avocados.

Double Fudge Cake

4 ounces chocolate, 1½ cups milk, 2 cups brown sugar firmly packed, 2/3 cup shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 cup granulated sugar, 3 eggs unbeaten, 2½ cups sifted flour.

Melt chocolate in milk over hot water and blend with rotary egg beater. Add brown sugar and stir until smooth. Cool. Combine shortening with salt, vanilla and soda. Add granulated sugar gradually and cream until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Add small amounts of flour alternately with chocolate mixture, beating after each addition until smooth. Pour batter into 10x10x2 inch pan greased with pan coat, which is a mixture of flour and shortening. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F 50 minutes. Spread Nut Fudge Frosting on top and sides of cake.

Nut Fudge Frosting

2 ounces chocolate cut in pieces, 2/3 cup milk, 2 cups sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon light corn syrup, 1 tablespoon butter, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 25 walnut halves.

Combine chocolate and milk and cook over low heat until smooth and perfectly blended, stirring constantly. Add sugar, salt and corn syrup and stir until mixture boils. Cook until a small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water, [illegible] degrees F. Remove from fire. Add butter and vanilla. Cool to luke warm 110 degrees F. Then beat until mixture thickens and begins to lose its gloss, about 10 minutes. Spread on cake. Press walnut halves in to frosting. Makes enough frosting to cover top and sides of 10x10x2 inch cake.

Lemon Apple Pie

2¼ cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup shortening, 5 tablespoons cold water (about).

Sift flour and salt together. Add ½ of shortening to flour. Cut in with pastry blender or two knives until mixture looks like meal. Add remaining shortening and continue cutting until particles are size of a navy bean. Sprinkle water one tablespoon at a time over mixture. With a fork work lightly together until all particles are moistened and in small lumps. Add just enough water to moisten. Press dampened particles together into a ball.

Filling

4 cups chopped apples, ¾ cup sugar, ¼ cup graham cracker crumbs, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ⅓ cup water, 1 egg.

Mix sugar, crumbs, lemon juice and rind with chopped apples. Beat egg and water and mix with the other ingredients. Place in pie shell, cover with top crust and bake 15 minutes at 425 degrees F, then reduce heat to 375 degrees F and bake 30 minutes longer.

Peach Mousse

1 cup whipping cream, ¾ cup confectioners sugar, 1 cup peach pulp, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 5 drops almond extract.

Mash canned drained peaches to a pulp, stir in sugar and flavoring. Whip the cream till stiff and fold in the peach mixture. Turn into refrigerator trays and freeze about four hours.

Married Comrades

Mother Graham Agrees To Assist Drake While Others Are in Maine

I DO NOT think my mother-in-law means to be cruel to Katie. Indeed I think that deep in her heart there is a sincere liking for the woman who has served us so long and so faithfully. But she has a deep-rated conviction that I have spoiled Katie with over-indulgence and that the only way to avert impudence, eavesdropping and loafing upon my little maid's part is to keep her sternly under subjection. But in pursuing this policy she often, I think unconsciously, wounds Katie very bitterly.

Thankful indeed was I that I had just told my faithful housekeeper of Allen Drake's promise to keep Mother Graham so occupied during my absence that she would have no time for household supervision. Otherwise I tremble to think what might have been the explosion at my mother-in-law's summons to her room to talk over my coming journey without the danger of being overheard. Her tone and her significant glance toward Katie accused the woman of eavesdropping even more scathingly than if she had used the actual word.

Katie Curbs Temper

But Katie, though she flinched as though she had been struck an actual blow and though her eyes blazed their resentment, uttered no syllable of defense or protest, and I hurried my mother-in-law out of the kitchen with the feeling that one barrier to our journey had been successfully passed.

And now, said Mother Graham when we had reached her room, I should be glad to hear what you have to say.

Her tone said that I was on trial and that upon the story I related to her would depend her absolution or infliction of penalties for not awakening her as soon as I knew of the projected journey and laying the case before her. But by the time I had finished the exciting tale of my father's code summons to us she had forgotten all irritation in sheer delight at the melodrama which she sensed behind my tale.

How perfectly thrilling! she exclaimed. Oh, why am I not younger and stronger so that I, too, could have a part in this.

There was something in her voice that stirred my pity deeply. I leaned over and touched her hand tenderly.

Important Roles

Don't you realize, mother dear, I said softly, that you and Allen Drake have most important roles in this drama? And he like you is bemoaning the fact that he must stay cooped up here inactive while the rest of us are out where the excitement will be.

I should think I would be, my mother-in-law exclaimed, but I saw that her eyes were brightening at this association of her with the brilliant government secret agent. Why, next to your father he's the king pin of the whole outfit.

I know it, I returned, but the crux of this whole matter lies in the secrecy of my father's activities being kept inviolate. And there's where you come in.

What do you mean? she asked excitedly, and although I was sure that she perfectly comprehended my meaning, yet I also knew that she wanted me to tell it all to her in words of one syllable that she might savor the full melodramatic flavor of the moment.

Agrees to Help

Allen Drake is impersonating father here, as you know, I said, so that [illegible] the chief is [illegible] have to think that he is near them. Anything that makes that impersonation more plausible is most important. I shall have to leave because of this summons, but you always have been much in my father's company, especially in the evening when you have those cribbage games. You must go on with those every evening that you can and you ought to sit where people passing can see your shadows on the curtains and know what you are doing.

Just leave that to me, she said loftily, and I knew that for the present her attention was successfully diverted from all her grievances and focused happily upon the role for which I had just cast her. And it was with the feeling of another barrier passed, in Dickensian phraseology, that at Dicky's unmistakable knock upon her door I rose, kissed her goodbye hastily but warmly and went into the hall as my husband came into the room.

Harding Faces Undefeated Ashland Cagers Friday

PRESIDENTS TRAVEL FOR CONTEST WITH LEADERS OF LEAGUE

Local Reserves Will Be Out To Keep Hold on First Place Position

Harding High's cage team will be facing the toughest assignment of the season by invading the home court of the undefeated Ashland High Hilltoppers tomorrow night in a return North-Central Ohio league contest.

Ashland undefeated in eight loop games holds undisputed first place in the N C O conference followed by the Mansfield team which has a record of six victories in nine starts and Marion and Bucyrus are tied at third place with four wins in the nine games.

In a previous clash with the Hilltoppers on the Marion Steam Shovel court Harding was downed 40 to 18. Although Marion's team has since gained valuable game experience and appears to be in real form for the return contest it is considered unlikely by league followers that the Presidents can match the skill and stamina of the veteran Hilltopper aggregation.

Coach Tony Lonero will be pushing his Ashland team to the limit in this week's game which if won by the Hilltoppers will clinch the 1936-37 league pennant. Last season the club with practically the same line up shared the N C O banner with Harding and this year has found little competition among league rivals.

Other contests tomorrow night which may alter the league situation bring Shelby and Bucyrus together on the latter's court and match Mt. Vernon and Mansfield on the Richland county floor. Bucyrus by defeating Shelby will have the opportunity to move into undisputed third place. In the event that the Redskins win a defeat at the hands of Ashland will drop Marion's varsity team into fourth place.

Harding Junior varsity aggregation will be seeking to retain its top berth during the Ashland invasion. The Marion Jayvee team now holds a first place tie with the Mansfield second stringers both having identical records of seven wins in nine games. Marion's reserve team has lost a pair of games this season both of them to Mansfield.

Tomorrow night's first game on the Ashland court will get underway shortly after 7 o'clock with the varsity contest following immediately.

Squad, After Winning 14 of 16 Games in Three Seasons, To Be Graduated Into Harding High School This Year.

Three championships in as many years in the city junior high school league is the record of the Vernon Heights Junior High varsity basketball team which just recently completed the 1936-37 season with the city league banner tucked safely under its belt.

The athletes who have been handling the first-string assignments this year have been playing together for three years and all expect to be seeking further cage laurels when they attend Harding High school next year. The team during the three years it has been burning up the city junior high school league has been under the direction of Coach J. Eugene Auld.

Dale Hudson and Russell Reichardt forwards Andy Irvine center and Ralph Howard and Isadore Birnbaum guards are the five athletes who have carried the brunt of the burden during the recent campaign. The five together with Jack Houpt who fills either a forward or guard position started off their basketball careers together in 1934-35 by winning the city seventh grade title.

A year ago the same aggregation took the coveted title in the eighth grade division and this year blossomed out to annex the varsity championship. Playing as seventh graders the team won seven of eight games last year they finished a perfect season with four victories in as many contests and this year they took the title with three wins in four starts.

Hudson Irvine and Birnbaum have gained the distinction of having played in at least a part of all the games over the three year period. Howard is well known in the city loop for his good defensive work. Irvine's height and clever ball handling make him a threat against any opponent. Hudson's keen eye for the basket and Reichardt's fast work under the hoop are just a few of the reasons why the team has massed such an enviable record Coach Auld says.

Other members of the team Marvin Coulter Paul Schwemley Grant Mouser III Richard Gast and Jack Lewis complete Coach Auld's varsity team. All of the members have taken a share in gaining the 1936-37 pennant for Vernon Heights and Coach Auld pays them a fitting tribute by saying "They're as fine a group of boys as any coach would want to handle."

The Vernon Heights school has the smallest enrollment in the city junior high league. The other schools are Thomas A Edison and Central Junior High schools.

BRADDOCK LEAVES FOR WEST TO SIGN LEWIS AGREEMENT

Champ Saw Pastor Fight But Didn't Learn Anything About Bomber.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURG Feb 18 — Jimmy Braddock—James J the world's heavyweight champion — headed west today to sign papers for a bout with the Brown Bomber of Detroit more concerned about anti Nazi boycott against Max Schmeling than the coming title clash.

"I'm in good shape" said Jimmy of the bout with Joe Louis top-ranking challenger.

"I weigh about 194 now and all that I'll take off for the title bout will be about two pounds.

"I was a ringsider at the Louis-Pastor fight but I didn't learn a thing about Louis. That fellow Pastor didn't give Joe a chance to fight. He did nothing but run away and Joe wasn't speedy enough to catch up with him."

Then his manager Joe Gould took up the story and referring to possibilities of a title bout with Max Schmeling said:

"We're not afraid of Max but I'm afraid that boycott movement that is spreading over the country like a measles epidemic against Schmeling would result in a colossal financial flop. It would be foolish to attempt to promote a bout involving Max so why shouldn't we pick out our own spot. We're out for all the money we can get. That's why we're in this business."

JUNIOR HIGH FIVE TO PLAY FACULTY

Central Junior High school's varsity basketball team will compete in a post season game tonight at the Y M C A against a team composed of faculty members of the school. A preliminary game between two girls teams of Central Junior High will open the program at 7 o'clock.

Louis Wins as Brown Does "Sit Down" in 4th

Floored Fighter Provides Burlesque Finish as He Tangles Up Referee.

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Feb 18—Referee Walter Bates ruled it a fourth round knockout so that's the way Joe Louis victory over Natie Brown was on the books today. More than a few of the 10,222 spectators at Municipal auditorium last night thought the only thing really out was their pocketbooks.

They paid $27,[illegible] to see the Brown Bomber patch up his maimed prestige at the expense of the punch weary Washington scrapper who provided a burlesque ending that must have made journeymen wrestlers green with envy.

It was Louis first start since his unfortunate affair with young Bob Pastor in which Louis trailed by two laps at the finish but was given the decision for trying. Visioning a championship bout with Jim Braddock in the offing Louis had to be the bomber of old against Brown. The four round knockout was the answer.

Baby Punches

The bout was as dull as the expressionless eyes of Louis. For two rounds Brown carried the fight to the bomber but neither man landed a punch hard enough to dent a grapefruit.

Midway in the third round Louis caught Brown coming in and flailed him with short rights and lefts. Brown's face began to assume a well cushioned appearance. As the round ended he apparently was in a bad way half out of the ropes and half out of his head.

The fourth was Louis' subpar round. He started at the gong driving in a barrage of rights and lefts which slipped through Brown's protecting gloves to jolt against various parts of his anatomy. Fifteen times the bomber bombed without answering fire. Finally the weary Natie sank to the floor in a sitting position.

Louis his face expressing the same animation as a coal scuttle ambled to a neutral corner. Referee Bates started counting ceased abruptly as the apparently groggy Brown grabbed him by a leg and pulled him over.

Back on Feet

Brown staggered to his feet and weaved an unsteady way toward the unconcerned Louis who stood sofa cushion lips in a perpetual whistle idly in the corner. Before Brown could make it Bates recovered his footing took a short cut to Louis and hoisted his hand aloft.

Bates said the timekeeper had completed the count before Brown regained his feet.

The bout failed to add to Louis prestige as planned. Brown's showing after the first two rounds during which both men were doing nothing very seriously was disappointing. Two years ago he stayed 10 rounds with Louis and his was the lone voice in the wilderness which said he could do it again.

For his brief exercise last night Louis and his stockholders received $8,526.84. Brown's cut was $3,310 which was better than in the previous meeting when his cuts were over both eyes.

VERY UNHAPPY NIGHT AHEAD OF "STREAKS"

John Carroll's Cagers Meet Toledo; Ohio U. Has Easy Time With Miami.

By The Associated Press

John Carroll's basketball Blue Streaks are unhappy.

They haven't won very many games this campaign.

They hold only one triumph in seven Ohio conference contests. Only Ashland is out-losing them for cellar laurels.

To top it off, they go to Toledo tonight to engage the flashy Toledo U. Rockets and one Chuck Chuckovits, new holder of the all-time Ohio collegiate scoring laurels for a single season.

The Toledo forward hails from Akron and already has 301 points for his sophomore season. He has two more games after tonight's Ohio conference affair.

Otterbein won last night its eighth circuit tilt in 10 contests by handing Kenyon a 39-20 defeat at Gambier. The victors led all the way, and at the half were on top, 22 to 13.

The other Ohio conference game found Wittenberg picking up an easy 44-24 victory from Denison at Granville.

In the Buckeye, Ohio U. entertained Miami and had no difficulty in winning, 46 to 21. It was Ohio U.'s seventh league victory in the same number of starts. Marshall has six out of six.

Defiance, behind Bluffton at the half, 9-16, sprinted in the second half and grabbed a 31-29 decision out of the fire at Defiance.

Ohio Northern goes to Ashland, which has lost all its 10 Ohio conference games, and Bowling Green is at Heidelberg in loop clashes tonight. A Buckeye league tilt finds Ohio Wesleyan at Marshall.

TWO CINCINNATI ROOKIES SIGN UP

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 18—Two of the Cincinnati Reds' promising rookies, Eddie Joost and Dick Barrett, signed their 1937 contracts today.

Joost is an infielder up from the San Francisco Missions of the Coast league while Barrett, a pitcher, won 22 and lost 13 games with Seattle, also of the Pacific Coast league, last season.

Pitcher Benny Frey, who won 10 games and lost eight last year, signed yesterday.

School Children Visit Harding Home, Museum

A campaign to acquaint every school child in Marion with the contents of the Harding home and museum on Mt. Vernon avenue is being conducted this month by Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Dombaugh, managers of the shrine, and city school officials. A special rate of ten cents has been put into effect for pupils for this month only in honor of the birthdays of Presidents McKinley, Lincoln and Washington. The usual price is 25 cents.

Since the beginning of the special rates on Jan. 29, McKinley's birthday, several hundred children have visited the museum accompanied by their teachers. Superintendent of Schools C. A. Hudson is cooperating in the movement by authorizing teachers to take their classes to the museum during school hours, and thus far Vernon Heights and Mark street schools have sent nearly 100 per cent delegations.

On Lincoln's birthday last Friday 225 children visited the museum and about 50 are coming in daily now. A large group is expected for Washington's birthday Monday also, Mrs. Dombaugh said.

Appreciation of the lectures of Mr. Dombaugh to the group on the history of Mr. Harding and of the relics at the home has been expressed by teachers and parents alike, she said. Mr. Dombaugh stresses the fact that Marion is one of the 31 cities in the country which in the last 160 years has been honored as the home of a president.

One of the most interesting exhibits for the children is a locket of the hair of Abraham Lincoln, Mrs. Dombaugh said. Some of the children, through the cooperation of the Marion Rapid Transit Co. are being transported free from school to the home and to the tomb.

This is the first campaign of its kind in seven years conducted by the management of the museum to educate children to the significance of the Harding home, Mrs. Dombaugh said.

The old 25 cent rate will go back into effect March 1, but children who were unable to attend the visits with their school classes will be permitted to come at the special rate later Mrs. Dombaugh said.

Rev. Heininger said that he spoke in appreciation of the fine high things for which the Salvation Army stands and the good it does in our community and in the world.

"This sophisticated generation has little patience with anything that approximates sentiment but if you take it out of the churches and the Army there would not be much left which would appeal to the world in its dire extremity today or any other day," he said in speaking of an Army street service in Cleveland which touched him deeply.

Tells Story of Absalom

Briefly he sketched the story of Absalom as told in II Samuel as a man who erected a pillar to himself and carved his own name upon it in order that the world would not forget that he had lived. "There are still those who are monument builders, builders with pride and ambition who erect their own monuments," he said.

Comparing Absalom and his self-centered monument building, the minister spoke of the secret of life and success and achievement and accomplishment of the Army as found in the fourth chapter of St. John, the story of Jacob's well.

"There have been well diggers in the world down through generations who have not erected monuments but have busied themselves digging wells from which the thirsty mortals coming that way might draw for themselves that which would quench their thirst," he said.

was uncertain as to the results of the investigation and declared "we're looking for graft and we're going to the bottom in a general investigation and audit. We'll play no favorites."

Potential aid for Ferguson's inquiry was given by an opinion of Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy who ruling that individuals could not be paid legally by the state for drafting legislative bills held that the auditor had authority to determine the source of funds of each voucher even when regular on its face.

Others to be questioned by Ferguson as soon as the inquiry progresses sufficiently he said were Director James W. Miller of the liquor department, members of the liquor control board, Chairman Francis W. Poulson of the state Democratic committee, departmental officials and several distillery representatives.

The auditor declined to say what information he sought from the group but announced he decided to summon the governor following a conference with Duffy who offered to cooperate.

Ferguson said his inquiry was based on complaints heard by the legislature and that he hoped to determine whether there was any favoritism shown in the purchase of liquor for the state.

Gov. Davey disclosed that his administration had approved a legislative bill to divest the state auditor of his powers over state finances and transfer them to the finance director, a gubernatorial appointee. Davey said the bill introduced by Sen. George M. Morris, Democrat of Franklin, would carry out a recommendation of the state government survey.

Slippery, Slippery Slip

Kicking at icy sidewalks, a customer writes "If I don't wear galoshes in sleety weather, my shoes get soaked. But if I do wear galoshes I have to take them off wherever there is ice, because they slip so." The answer is simple. Ask the Street Cleaning Dept. to have all the sidewalks frozen over and leave your galoshes home. Or have the streets covered with The Marion Star's classified want-ads. They always get clean results. This one did:
